

Comment regarding Sirius and XM radio's request for expansion of local coverage. This is in direct conflict of their express promises that their service would be national-only. They also said that because satellite radio would be national, local broadcasters would not be harmed. This is clearly harmful to local broadcasters and completely unnecessary to consider for approval.

Without FCC intervention, two companies, with 120 channels each, will reach into every market and try to mimic what local broadcasters do. Satellite Radio doesn't have public interest limits or ownership limits. They have no local investment in their communities.

Our seven local stations in Salt Lake City regularly raise money and call attention to local charities. We disseminate information daily that is useful to our local communities. We carefully adhere to our company's policies on indecency. None of the above can be said about satellite broadcaster.

Make them stand by what they said initially. Keep them out of local markets.
